DEDICATED TO ALL BARRICKMAN-BARRACKMANS WHO HAVE TAKEN SUCH PRIDE IN THE PART THEIR FAMILY HAS PLAYED IN AMERICAN HISTORY. NOT ONLY THIS FAMILY IN WEST VIRGINIA, BUT IN EARLY VIRGINIA, MARYLAND, PENNSYL-VANIA, AND EVERY OUTPOST OF CIVILIZATION IN THE AMERICAN COLONIES. THEY WERE HARD WORKING--DEEPLY RELIGIOUS--JUST AND FAIR. THEY WERE TILLERS OF THE SOIL, MEN WHO FOUGHT IN ALL OF OUR WARS TO AID IN FREEDOM. TODAY BARRICKMAN-BARRACKMANS SERVE THROUGH-OUT THE WORLD AS MINISTERS, COMMANDING OFFICERS IN THE VARIOUS SERVICES, DOCTORS, LAWYERS, EDUCATORS, AND HOMEMAKERS. MANY STILL ARE FARMERS. ALL INTER-ESTED IN ONE COMMON CAUSE--FREEDOM, IN EVERY MEANING OF THE WORD. MAY THIS GREAT FAMILY GROW AND PROSPER.

Credits Given

To Ruth Barekman of Bloomington, Illinois, who not only diligently typed most of the following records, but helped in filling in family groups.

To Mary T. Raftery, who helped me assemble material, handled some of my correspondence, and also faithfully typed on the West Virginia line.

To Marian Collor, who supplied all paper materials and ditto materials, and ran off one-hundred copies of the West Virginia book.

To DeCota Barriekman Varnado, who worked so hard and long on her branch of the West Virginia Barriekmans. Mrs. Varnado spent untold hours of research and letter writing, not to mention long distance calls. Mrs. Varnado is given full credit as the compiler of the John S. Barriekman family.

To Earl L. Core. His book on the "Core" family not only listed Barriekmans too numerous to mention, but also listed sources of information that helped greatly in locating and fitting in families into which the Barriekmans married.

To Frank M. Brand. His letters to me and his book on the "Wade" family added greatly in my research.

To the library of the University of West Virginia for its help.

To the Department of Archives and History of the State of West Virginia.

To Mrs. Beryl Amos of Fairmont, West Virginia. Mrs. Amos checked the census for various counties looking for marriages, deaths, etc.; also court house and library records.

To Mrs. Vivian Barriekman Shoemaker of Indiana--now deceased. Her research on the West Virginia Barriekmans were of great help in locating many families.

To the James M. Barrackman family for a complete line of Barrackmans.

To the Orvil O. Barickman family for their complete history.

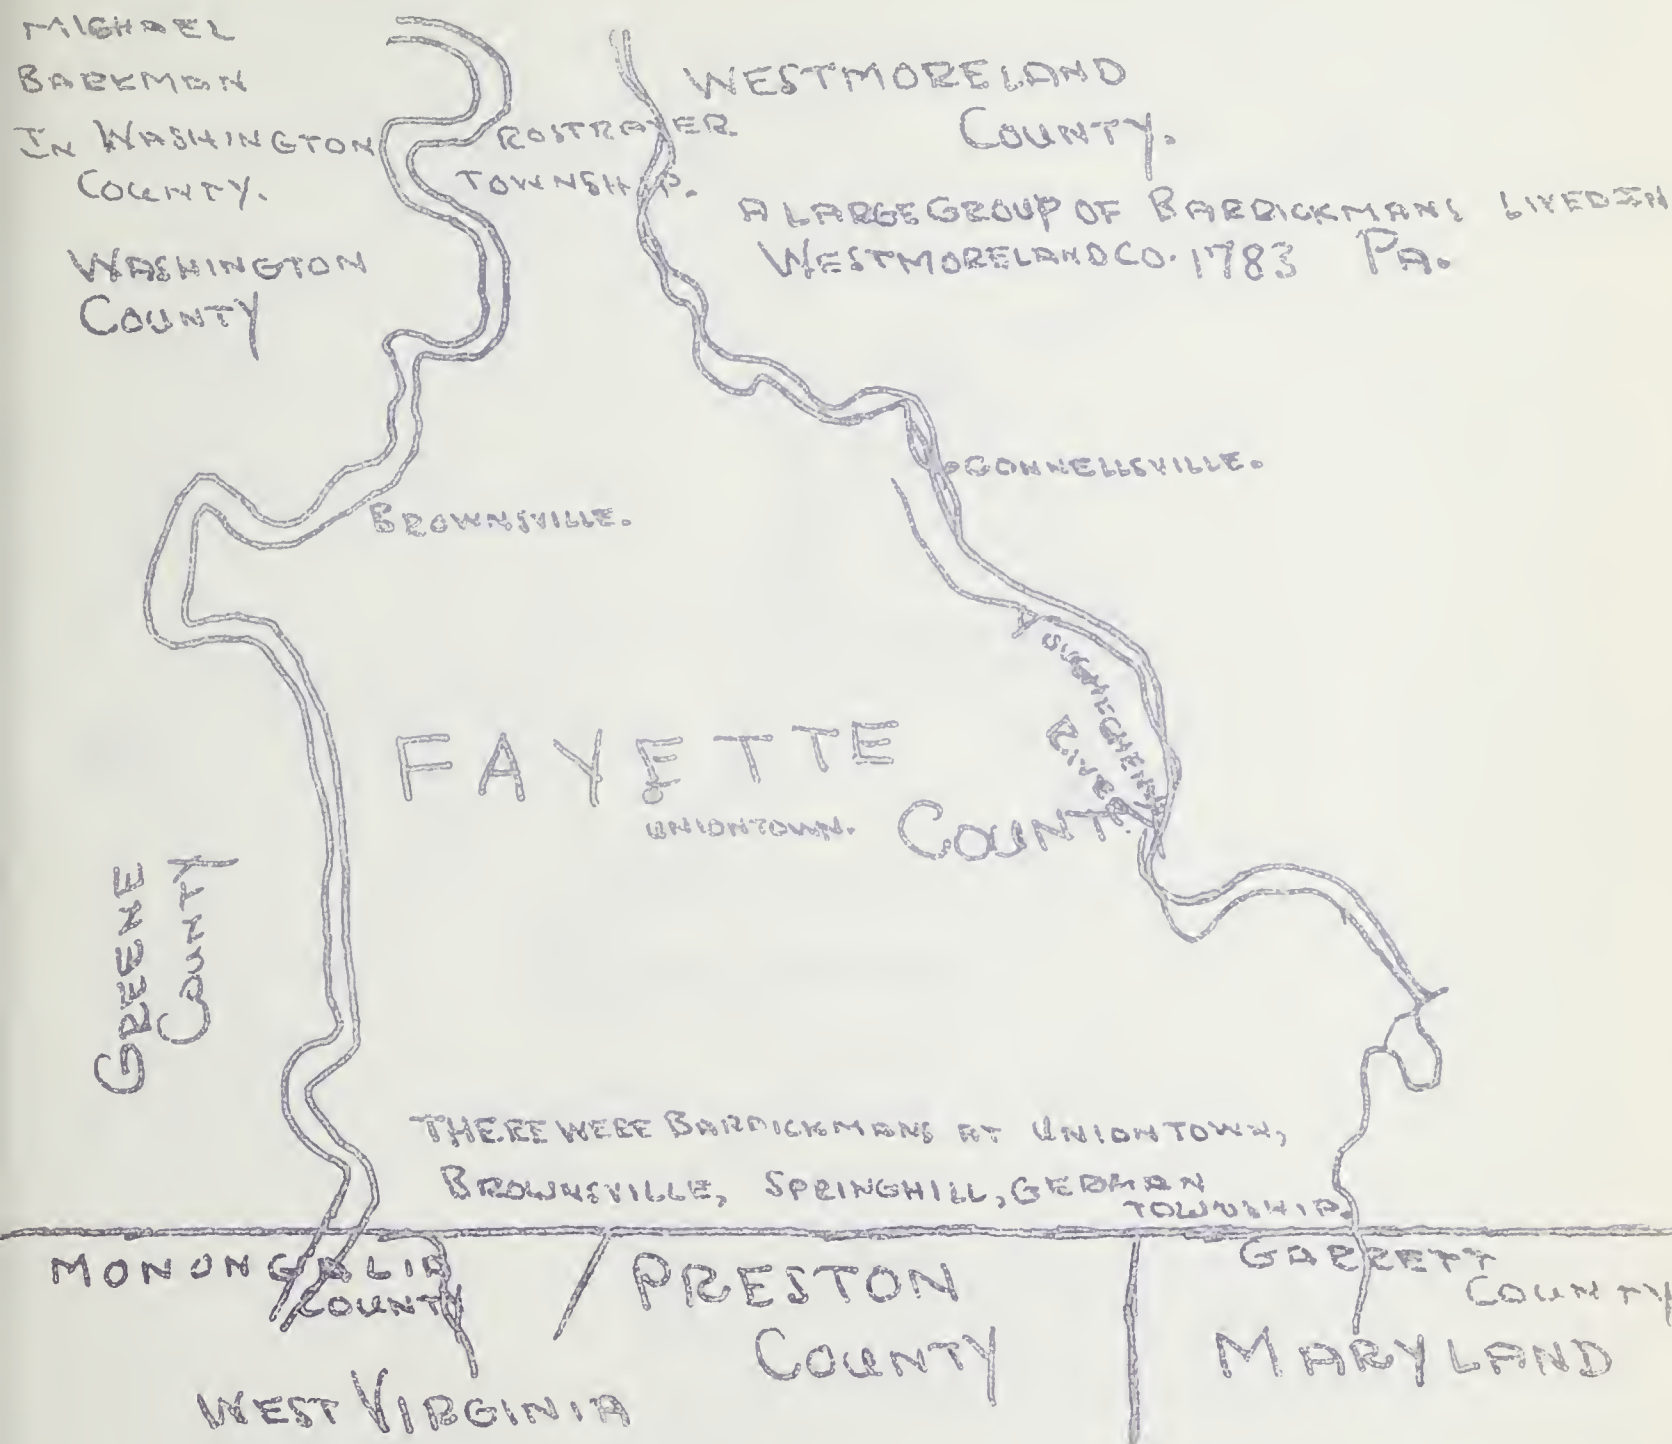

To the William Barriekman family of Pennsylvania for their complete Barriekman line.

To the Barriekman families in Iowa, California, Canada, Oregon for their wonderful help.

And lastly, full credit and thanks to everyone who aided by filling in census forms and answering my letters.

Henry Barrickman built his first log house in 1763 on the site of the old Court, Monongalia County, West Virginia.

This early area of West Virginia was a vast wilderness. In 1763 only territory known was not a slight Indian village.

The Indians came from West Virginia from Ohio, through Pennsylvania, to the westward from the Ohio Valley, Indiana, or Tennessee.

This wilderness of Virginia later to be called West Virginia was an almost barren ground. There were wolves, bears, buffaloes, deer, etc. In abundance.
Large numbers of the hunting tribes, such as, Shawnee, Cherokee, etc., muskegete, however could be hunted.

The soil was fertile and easily cultivated, so it was small wonder that the Barrickmans, along among the first settlers in any area opening up westward could be found planting, raising and feeding and playing their part in the civil affairs of the community.

Henry Barrickman was the first Barrickman indigenous to settle in Chambersburg Franklin County Pennsylvania. Franklin County having been formed Sept. 9, 1764 of a part of Chesterland County, Pennsylvania.

It is reported that while in Chambersburg Pennsylvania, Henry Barrickman born ca. 1745, in Germany, married Abigail Swan of Pennsylvania.

Henry Barrickman hearing of land opportunities in Fayette County which in Sept. 26, 1761, had been formed of a part of Westchesterland County Pennsylvania, left for Fayette County, Pennsylvania.

Fayette County was at this time the goal of the pioneers who sought new homes in South Western Pennsylvania. Most of the pioneers were English followed by Welsh, Scotch-Irish and German. They were largely protestant and mainly presbyterian.

The Germans rapidly built themselves into rural communities and were very "skin conscious". The Barrickmans generally settled as close to water as possible.

Tales were heard of land down the Monongalia into what is now West Virginia.
At the time settlements were being made in Virginia, it must be remembered the boundary lines between the colonies were in dispute. Virginia claims were to land as far north as Pittsburgh. William Penn had claimed land for Pennsylvania that would have extended into the Monongalia region as far to the south as Weston West Virginia.

In Morgantown, West Virginia in 1760, the first permanent settlement was made by the Morgan family. Michael Gore settled in the Dunkard Creek area of Western Monongalia in 1772, and in 1774 Herman Wade settled in Dunkard Creek.
It was into these three family groups the Barrickmans were to marry time and again.

The Barrickman family in German town Fayette County had earlier married into the Gore family and this may have proved to be the connecting link between the Barrickmans in Fayette County who did remain there as a large family group, and the very large family of Barrickmans who live in West Virginia today.

Henry Barrickman was granted a tract of 178 acres in 1763, at a point where Pedlar's Run joins Pedlar's Run, and here Henry built his log cabin. His neighbor Michael Gore, and an uncle to Henry Barrickman was eventually to have the "Village of Gore", so named.

The original land surveyed October 8, 1802 for Henry Barrickman was of Thomas Landrey and of James Murray and John Lewis 178 acres of land in Monongalia County as part of a land office warrant for 500 acres of land on 20.08 dated the 10th day of November, 1761 and expired the 9th day of September 1802 at Pedlar's Run, Book 5, p. 182.

On May 20, 1806 Henry Barrickman and his wife, Abigail sold 16 1/2 acres of this tract to Michael Gore. Michael was one son of Christopher Gore early pioneer to the area.

In April of 1806, Henry Barrickman had sold 60 acres of another tract of land to Samuel Davis. There is a possibility here that Hannah the wife of Samuel Davis, was a daughter to Henry and Abigail Barrickman.

History does not tell us when Henry or Abigail Barrickman died. The year of 1808 is our last record.

Undoubtedly they had many children, born to them. To date I can prove only one child—that of a son, John Barrickman, and the following is a record of his direct lineage.

John Barrickman was born in 1775, in Pennsylvania. John married in West Virginia, to Barbara Pickenspaugh. Barbara was born in Virginia, in 1774. It is believed that she had an earlier marriage. Who her parents were, or where she was born is unknown. Following is a list of the children of John and Barbara Barrickman. John died 8-15-1851. Barbara died 9-24-1857. On various dates over the months the case of Barrickman and Lanham appeared and was continued from 1842-1843 at Harbours County, Virginia. Following is an account of the appearance of Henry Barrickman before Judge Edwin S. Duncan. The date of appearance does not show on copy of court recording for that day.

To the Honorable Edwin S. Duncan, Judge of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery of Lewis County.

Humbly--comes into your court--Nimrod Barrickman (note:-- name was spent in proceedings in several ways) of the County of Monongalia and Henry Barrickman of the said County of Lewis, that on the 24th day of January, 1842. Your orators Henry Barrickman purchased of George B. Lanham of the said County of Lewis a tract of 127 acres of land near Buckhannon River in the said County of Lewis adjoining lands of Isaac Hager and to include the improvements and house in which the said Lanham lived, at the price of $400.00 and the said Lanham executed his hand to make to your orator a deed for said land with--and of general warranty (which Henry Barrickman signed over to Nimrod on the 4th day of January 1843) against the first day of April of 1842, which land is filed as a part of this bill. That the said Lanham put your orator Henry Barrickman into the possession of said land under said contract, and your orator Henry Barrickman has had the possession ever since; but the said Lanham has failed and refused to make to your orators a deed for said land according to his contract and the condition of his bond, and refused to sell said land and to return to your orator Henry Barrickman possession--your orator Henry Barrickman knows he has made considerable improvements on said land that his feeling is anxiety to have a specific execution of said contract--that he cared not well he compensated in damages for the failure of said (deed) land--Lanham to make able such compensations which your orators say he is wholly unable to do; being in _____? circumstances--your executors show that they are _____? at common law and only relievable in equity to which they pray that the said George B. Lanham be made defendant to the bill and he be compelled to answer all its accusations under oath. That the _____? be considered by your honor (unreadable) compel the said Lanham to make to your orator Nimrod Barrickman a deed for said land and that your honor have such other _____? as may seem right.

(signature illegible)

Appearing to the court that all the part is in the cause beside with in the County of Harbours, it is ordered that this cause be transferred to the Circuit of Harbours, and that the Clerk of this court transmit the papers in the cause, together with a transcript of the proceedings had therein to the clerk of said County of Harbours.

Nimrod Barrackman vs George B. Lanham
Answer in Chancery

To the Honorable Edwin S. Dutton, Judge

The answer of George B. Lanham to a bill in chancery exhibited against him in this honorable court by Nimrod Barrackman and Henry Barrackman. The respondent, George B. Lanham, said he will make proper such information as deals with said land in question. He answers he sold to Henry Barrackman 127 acres of said land as the bill claimed, and that he also executed to Barrackman the bond mentioned in said bill. George B. Lanham denies that he refused to make a deed for said land according to his contract and conditions of said bond. But on the contrary, Lanham and his wife went to the house of Major Reger to make the deed at the request of said Henry Barrackman.

Lanham then claims while at Major Reger's house Henry Barrackman presented him with a deed drawn for the conveyance of 130-1/4 acres, which Lanham refused to sign, saying he had executed his bond for 127 acres. George B. Lanham said he would sign deed for 127 acres according to his hand. This Henry Barrackman refused to sign, and receive.

The respondent (George B. Lanham) stated by contract of sale Henry Barrackman was to pay for said land in installment-to wit--$125.00 in hand, 75.00 on the 1st of March, 1842; 50.00 on the 1st of April, 1843, 75.00 on the 1st of April, 1844, and 75.00 on the 1st of April, 1845.

Lanham said Henry Barrackman was to have made a payment on the 1st of March, 1842. This was to have been made before the making of the deed. Yet said Henry Barrackman failed to pay the same; nor has he paid George B. Lanham anything but the $125.00 which was paid in horses.

George B. Lanham claims Henry Barrackman _____? insolvent, and that he has no property either real or personal out of which the purchased money have alluded to could be made, and now having assigned said title bond--Lanham the respondent submits whether equity will decree a deed to said Nimrod Barrackman and leave free to look to said Henry Barrackman from whom George B. Lanham can get nothing, unless he makes the same out of the land _____? mentioned.

George B. Lanham denies he is insolvent--as Barrackmans claim, and he is ready to make the deed according to his title bond and comply in all things with his contract whenever Henry Barrackman pays him--Lanham the above sums yet due and unpaid on said land.

George B. Lanham, having answered Henry Barrackman in chancery--prays to be hence dismissed with his costs.

(Signed) George B. Lanham

Before the undersigned, a justice of the peace in the county aforesaid personally appeared George B. Lanham and made oath that the foregoing answer contains the truth to the best of his knowledge and belief. Witness my hand this

WEST VIRGINIA

THE JOHN S. BARRICKMAN FAMILY OF WEST VIRGINIA

COMPILED BY:

DEGOTA BARRICKMAN VARNADO
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Henry Barrickman, born 18 1802 in Virginia, was a son of John Barrickman and Mary (Harris) Barrickman. Henry was the first male child born to John and Mary Barrickman in Virginia; the second born being born in the state of Pennsylvania. Henry was named after his grandfather, Henry Barrickman, who was a very early settler in Henric County, Virginia.

After Henry's (II) marriage to Catherine Scott, they moved to Lewis, Garbure, and Braxton Counties, West Virginia; where they had many children, we are able to trace only the line of John S. Barrickman. John was born at Cassville, Virginia on July 7th, 1833 and married Sarah E. Loudin in Taylortown, Pennsylvania on December 1st, 1860.

Our records from here on are from authentic sources, Births--Deaths--wills--deeds--etc., and they have been submitted by these Barrickman kin; carefully screened by direct kin of John S. Barrickman and his wife Sarah E. Loudin. This relative is Mrs. Rebecca Barrickman Varney.

Of David Barrickman, brother to John S. Barrickman, we have no knowledge--nor of a much younger brother, Henry, who had a son David Barrickman.

All news or records on these missing men while not anticipated would be greatly appreciated. So if you can add to this line of kin please contact us.

Henry Barrickman, brother to John S., also had a daughter, Sarah Barrickman, who married Henry Simons. They lived near Newhook, West Virginia. Henry Simons taught school.

NOTE:--THROUGHTOUT THE BOOK IT WILL BE NOTICED THAT THE NAME OF EACH MAN IS ALSO SPILLED BARRICKMAN--EVEN FOR THE SAME PERSON. THESE TWO SPELLINGS OF THE NAME SEEM TO PREDOMINATE--THERE ARE, HOWEVER, MANY OTHERS--BARRMAN, BARRICEMAN, BARECKMAN, BARAMAN, BARMAN, BARMAN, BARMAN, BARMAN, BARMAN, BARMAN, ETC.

GENEALOGY OF THE JOHN S. BARRICKMAN FAMILY OF WEST VIRGINIA

Randolph County in West Virginia was formed from Harrison County in 1787. It then included all of what is presently known as Tucker County, part of Barbour County, and parts of Upshur, Pocahontas, and Webster Counties. Despite the later loss of considerable land in the formation of new counties, Randolph is still the largest county in the state.

Randolph County has always been regarded as the historical center of West Virginia. Men who were to influence the entire country were born and lived in Randolph. The first white men in West Virginia made their homes there. Great battles between the whites and the Indians took place within its boundaries.

When the French and Indian War had included, a new and greater tide of settlers pushed westward. This tide came in three streams: one was by way of the Cumberland into the lower Monongahela Valley, a second was by way of the Greenbrier into the Kanawha Valley, and the third (which has been ignored by most historians) travelled along old Indian trails into Randolph County and on westward. This third avenue of expansion has never received the acclaim which it deserved.

It was here that the Morgans settled and where we find the marriage record of David Barrickman and Pleasant Morgan. There is also a deed recorded in Randolph County, West Virginia to Pleasant Barrickman in 1899.

DeCota Barrickman Varnado of Washington, D. C. is the compiler of the following records on the John S. Barrickman family. Without her help none of the following information would have been made available to me. I wish to thank Mrs. Varnado for her unusual interest shown in her family and for the records which will be of help to so many others.

Fall Run, West Virginia, was formed from Lewis, Harrison and Boone Counties in 1866. It was in the vicinity of Barton County that John S. Barrickman was born. The area was near Fall Run. The countryside here is rolling hillsides, beautifully decorated with stately trees. Truly a natural paradise.

John S. Barrickman was born on July 7th, 1853. He died on the 29th, 1914. He is buried in Fall Run Cemetery. John married Sarah Elizabeth Loudin (born October 8th, 1837, died December 15th, 1904). Sarah lies next to her husband in the Fall Run Cemetery.

John S. Barrickman was one of the early settlers in his community. Not too far away is the town of Gassaway, West Virginia. Gassaway today centers about the shops and yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The town itself was not founded until 1904--as a division point on the railway between Elkins and Charlestown, West Virginia, and named for United States Senator Henry Gassaway Davis.

Also nearby is Sutton, West Virginia, county seat of Braxton County. Sutton is a trading town for an extensive farming section. John D. Sutton settled here in 1810. The Barrickman family made many marriages with the Sutton family of West Virginia.

John S. Barrickman and his wife, Sarah, raised eight children: David Henry, Lloyd, Oatis, Mary Elizabeth, Josephine, Loretta, Lily, and Columbus.

Following is the life of David Henry Barrickman--the first born child. David Henry Barrickman was born on February 14th, 1863 at Fall Run, West Virginia. David died on January 4th, 1897 and is buried at Weston, West Virginia. He was murdered by persons unknown. A minister, who was a close friend of the family, tried to find David's murderer, but evidently he was threatened and was afraid to continue his investigation. Earlier, a farm hand who worked with David Henry Barrickman had poisoned his two horses. He was jealous, and wanted David's job in a lumber camp.

David Henry Barrickman married Pleasant Morgan on June 13th, 1880. She had been born on May 9th, 1866 in Randolph County. Pleasant Morgan Barrickman remarried after the death of David Henry Barrickman. She married Elias Zinkefoose and they had three children. Pleasant Morgan Barrickman Zinkefoose died on May 29th, 1942.

Pleasant Morgan was the daughter of Charles Morgan (born on June 12th, 1827) and Ellen Moran. Pleasant is a direct kin to Morgan ap Morgan, who is credited with being the first white man to build a permanent home in what was then Virginia. Later Berkeley County, the home of Morgan ap Morgan, became a part of West Virginia.

Morgan ap Morgan received patents to 1000 acres of land in Western Virginia. In 1726 and 1727 he built a log cabin near Bunker Hill on Mill Creek, in Berkeley County, West Virginia. He did not settle there with his family until 1730. Morgan ap Morgan was born in 1688 in Wales. He came to the colonies as a young man. He was a captain of the militia, served as a justice, and was active in affairs of the state. Morgan ap Morgan built the first established road in the state of Virginia. This road was built along an early Indian and buffalo trail.

The first Protestant Episcopal Church was built by Morgan ap Morgan in the year of 1740. It was called the Mill Creek Church.

Many Germans from Pennsylvania came into this region, and when George Washington was surveying land for Lord Fairfax in 1748 and 1749, -50, and -51, he reported many squatters of German origin.

In Berkeley County, Virginia, during the time of the Revolutionary War we have record of Michael Barriekman, also spells Bergman, and Bar-rackman. While in Berkeley County, Michael furnished supplies for the men engaged in freedom's fight against the British. He supplied provisions and helped transport the sick and the injured. Michael Barriekman and his family will appear in "The Barriekmans of Maryland" edited by my partner, Mr. Hank Jones.

Serving from the state of Virginia during the Revolution was John Bayrookman (Barriekman) in 1777. He served under Captain James Sullivan of the 13th Virginia regulars commanded by Colonel William Russell.

John Barriekman deserted on November 14th, 1777. It was undoubtedly because of his family that he deserted, he probably went home to help them provide for the long winter ahead. We have further record of John serving from a unit in Pennsylvania.

Jacob Barriekman served from Jefferson County, Virginia--later a part of Kentucky. He was a private during the Revolutionary War--served under Captain Michael Humble in one of Colonel George Rogers Clark's units. Jacob had 100 acres of land in Berkeley County, Virginia in the year of 1784. The record on this is found in the Martinsburg Court House in Virginia.

Jacob and John Barriekman are sons of Michael and Eva Barriekman who moved into Maryland.

Jacob Barriekman and his family moved into Kentucky. His story will appear in "Barriekmans of Kentucky and Pioneers of the Early West".

There seems little doubt that the Morgans and the Barriekmans knew each other well from early days in Berkely and surrounding countryside.

Zachquill Morgan was a son of Morgan ap Morgan. "Zach" reached what is now the site of Morgantown, West Virginia, in 1767. He and the other men in his party cleared land and created two forts and some land.

houses. The forts were Fort Kern and Fort Morgan.

By 1781 land belonging to Zach Morgan was laid off in lots for a town. In 1783 the seat of Monongalia County was moved here. George Washington came to Morganstown in that year to confer with Colonel Zach Morgan as to the possibilities of building or producing an inland water way or land route to the west through Virginia territory.

Charles Morgan, the father of Pleasant Morgan, was a grandson of Zachquill Morgan.

David Henry Barrickman and Pleasant Morgan Barrickman had five children: Oscar L., Thomas Weeden, Lulu Blanche, Lewis Morgan and David Henry Barrickman Jr.

Oscar L. Barrickman, the son of David Henry and Pleasant Barrickman, and grandson of John S. Barrickman, was born on March 29th, 1888, at Fall Run, West Virginia. Prior to that Oscar Barrickman taught school.

Old Deeds Series, 12, p. 398. (11-15-1852)

Elizabeth, Christian John, and Rebecca Barrackman made deed to Edward Holland for 159 acres on White Day Creek, being part of a tract granted to Samuel Harvey and Thomas Miller. This deed made by above "by state of inheritance".

In this deed John Jr. was the son of John Barrackman and it is not clear to land in 1873 in western Virginia—in Pennsylvania. John Jr. also had a division of land over various years on other tracts of land. In 1805-1806 he was separately in fact—and this is the last report we have on him. He was would be John Barrackman born in 1771 in Pennsylvania. John Jr. also had land in Pennsylvania County, Virginia. His son John was not born until 1813. These are the only West Virginia Johns we know of.

John Barrackman of Fayette County, Pennsylvania was married to Catherine—last name unknown. Their son-in-law was a son of John's family went into West Virginia and had a village named after them. This John of Pennsylvania also had a son named John. They may have lived for a time in West Virginia.

John Barrackman served in the Revolutionary war from Virginia—who he actually was—we do not know. He also may have lived in the area, and had a son named John Barrackman Jr. These men lived in the Berkeley County Virginia area.

Elizabeth, Christian John, and Rebecca Barrackman made deed to Edward Holland for 159 acres on White Day Creek, being part of a tract granted to Samuel Harvey and Thomas Miller. This deed made by above "by state of inheritance".

We are working to learn the connection of this family with other Barrackman families. Rebecca Barrackman's maiden name was Christian and she was the widow of Henry Barrackman. This family lived also in Maryland and moved into Belmont County, Ohio.
